As the below named inventor, I hereby declare that my residence, post office address and citizenship are as stated below next to my name; I believe I am the original, first inventor of the subject matter which is described and claimed in Letters Patent No. 6,386,321 granted on May 14, 2002, and in the specification and for which invention I solicit a reissue patent by the above designated reissue application.

I hereby state that I have reviewed and understand the contents of the above identified reissue application specification, including the original claims and those claims set forth in the instant Amendment filed with said reissue application, under the provisions of 37 C.F.R. 1.129(a).

I acknowledge the duty to disclose information which is material to the examination of this application namely, information where there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable examiner would consider it important in deciding whether to allow the application to issue as a patent, as required by 37 C.F.R. §1.56(a). In compliance with this due, I have previously attached an information disclosure statement in accordance with 37 C.F.R. 1.98.

This Declaration is supplemental to that filed with the Reissue application herein, and I request the benefit of the earlier filed Declaration not inconsistent with the instant Declaration.

STATEMENT OF INOPERATIVENESS OR INVALIDITY
OF ORIGINAL PATENT 37 C.F.R. 1.175

I believe the original patent to be partly invalid because of error without any deceptive intent on the part of the Applicant for the following reasons.

Applicant's belief that the original patent is partly invalid is by reason of claiming less than he had the right to claim in the patent.

Although allowed claims 1-7 do define certain patentable features of the specific structure for the tree stand disclosed; the full invention as set forth in claims 8-10 added by this Reissue application was never claimed in the original application.

A. THE ERROR RELIED UPON

The full invention as set forth in claims 8-10 added by this Reissue application was never claimed in the original application. The error is believed to have arisen by a lack of communication between the patentee, Tony Muhich and his patent attorney, Richard W. Goldstein, of Staten Island, New York. The error arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the Applicant, and the error relied upon is particularly specified hereinafter, with details as to how it arose.

I, Tony Muhich, manufacture and have manufactured for me, archery equipment which I sell to distributors at wholesale prices and to individuals at retail prices. I have made my living in the archery and bow hunting business for forty (40) years. Having approved the drawings, the specification and the claims as to my invention filed on March 21, 2001 as Serial No. 09/816,901, I was of the opinion that Mr. Goldstein knew what he was doing, and left the protection to him, accepting the final patent.

At all times up until recently, I was of the opinion that my patent was broad enough to literally cover a tree stand with at least one leveling mechanism for leveling a tree stand platform from front to back. I also thought my patent was broad enough to literally cover a tree stand with at least one leveling mechanism for leveling from one side to the other. I am currently advised that my opinions of the last two sentences are in error.

B. HOW AND WHEN THE ERROR AROSE AND WAS DISCOVERED

Sometime between February 1 and May 1, 2003, I asked my current Patent Attorney, Michael O. Sturm to investigate what I thought was an infringing tree stand product. During the course of that investigation, I was informed by Mr. Sturm that my patent claims did not cover my invention as I thought it did, and it was pointed out to me that my present claims literally covered only a structure of upper and lower levelers and did not literally cover a tree stand with no lower levelers. It was also pointed out to me by Mr. Sturm, that my present claims literally require two seat supports, though only one is necessary, and an adjustable seat, which is an optional feature. Also, the shape of the platform is claimed literally in claim 1 with specificity and it is my belief that in its broadest form, my invention should not be limited to that specific shape of a platform.

During several telephone conferences beginning in April of 2003 with Michael O. Sturm, Patent Attorney with Sturm & Fix LLP, I told him that I believed the true invention of mine and as described above had not been brought before the Patent Office Examiner. Mr. Sturm, who has examined the file history of my patent application, agreed with my assessment of the situation. I was told by Mr. Sturm that by only by means of filing a reissue application within two years of the issue date of my patent could additional claims be presented which are directed to a broader presentation of my invention.

I have looked at and understand new claims 8-17 attached hereto and believe that they truly represent a broader scope of my invention to which I am entitled, in addition to claims 1-7, which are of a much narrower scope.

C. HOW THE PRESENT REISSUE APPLICATION OVERCOMES THE INSUFFICIENCY IN THE ORIGINAL CLAIMS

The invention of original claim 1, the only independent claim of my patent, relates only literally to claims of a platform which is wider at the front than in the back, a pair of seat supports, a seat assembly which is adjustable in height, a pair of lower levelers and a pair of upper levelers, all claimed with specificity.

Newly proposed independent reissue claim 8 differs from and corrects the errors of original claims 1-7 in that the all of the underlined subject matter listed in the paragraph immediately above have been removed and some other elements of claim 1 are claimed more broadly in claim 8.

The invention of original claim 1, the only independent claim of my patent, relates only literally to claims of a platform which is wider at the front than in the back, a pair of seat supports, a seat assembly which is adjustable in height, a pair of upper levelers and a pair of lower levelers, all claimed with specificity.

Newly proposed independent reissue claim 12 differs from and corrects the errors of original claims 1-7 in that the all of the underlined subject matter listed in the paragraph immediately above have been removed and some other elements of claim 1 are claimed more broadly in claim 12.

Dependent claims 9-11 and 13-17 further limit claims 8 or 12.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.
